William has worked with us on a number of projects, both on strategic customer acquisition programmes and responsive web projects. We have found him to be exceptionally knowledgeable, collaborative and willing to go the extra mile to ensure a successful outcome. Also, he's a great guy to work with. I would have no hesitation in recommending him

I have used Brainstorm to build and design our Ecopure Filters International website. William Gets has been outstanding in designing a fresh and easy-to-use website which sets us apart from other water treatment companies in the UK. Service is always prompt and he is open to ideas on how to promote our brand which is very important to us.
